the concept

All teachers know that simply lecturing their pupils does not work. Much more is learnt, created, discovered and retained when the pupils participate and interact. To inspire and motivate there must be ongoing two-way communication between teacher and pupils.

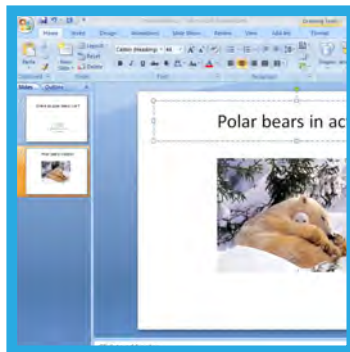

JUSTVOTE is a leading interactive response system which not only enhances this process but is the core element which creates interaction in the first place.

Using modern sophisticated software running on a standard PC, the JUSTVOTE system enables pupils to respond and interact to the teacher's questions and other material using their own personal handsets, increasing the learning and evaluation experience. Results and reports can be displayed instantly and are automatically stored for subsequent analysis.

“ Tell me, I resist
Show me, I bestir
Involve me,
I am inspired ”
